AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE IMPOSITION OF INCOME TAX, WEALTH TAX AND GIFTS TAX FOR ANY YEAR OF ASSESSMENT
COMMENCING ON OR AFTER APRIL 1, 1979.

BE it enacted by the Parliament of the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka as follows:—

1. This Act may be cited as the Inland Revenue Act, Short title.
No. 28 of 1979.

CHAPTER I

IMPOSITION OF INCOME TAX

2. (1) Income tax shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be charged at the appropriate rates specified in the First, Second and Third Schedules to this Act for every year of assessment commencing on or after April 1, 1979, in respect of the profits and income of every person for that year of assessment—

Imposition of income tax

- (a) wherever arising, in the case of a person who was resident in Sri Lanka in that year of assessment; and
- (b) arising in, or derived from, Sri Lanka in the case of every other person.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, "profits and income arising in or derived from Sri Lanka" includes all profits and income derived from services rendered in Sri Lanka, or from property in Sri Lanka, or from business transacted in Sri Lanka, whether directly or through an agent.

CHAPTER II

INCOME CHARGEABLE WITH TAX

3. For the purposes of this Act, "profits and income" or "profits" or "income" means—

Income chargeable with tax

- (a) the profits from any trade, business, profession or vocation for however short a period carried on or exercised;
- (b) the profits from any employment;
- (c) the net annual value of any land and improvements thereon occupied by or on behalf of the owner in so far as it is not so occupied for the purposes of a trade, business, profession or vocation;

- (d) the net annual value of any land and improvements thereon used rent-free by the occupier if such net annual value is not taken into account in ascertaining profits and income under paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) of this section, or where the rent paid for such land and improvements is less than the net annual value, the excess of such net annual value, over the rent, to be deemed in each case the income of the occupier;
- (e) dividends, interest or discounts;
- (f) charges or annuities;
- (g) rents, royalties or premiums;
- (h) capital gains; and
- (i) income from any other source whatsoever, not including profits of a casual and non-recurring nature.

Profits from employment.

4. Profits from any employment include—

- (a) (i) any wages, salary, allowance, leave pay, fee, pension, commission, bonus, gratuity, perquisite or such other payment in money which an employee receives in the course of his employment;
- (ii) the value of any benefits to the employee or to his spouse, child or parent including the value of any holiday warrant or passage;
- (iii) any payment to any other person for the benefit of the employee or of his spouse, child or parent, whether received or derived from the employer or others;

- (b) the value of any conveyance granted free of any charge by an employer to any employee, or any sum so granted for the purchase of any conveyance;
- (c) (i) any retiring gratuity or any sum received in commutation of pension;
- (ii) any sum paid from a provident fund approved by the Commissioner-General to any employee at the time of his retirement, other than such part of that sum as represents his contributions to that fund made after April 1, 1954;

- (iii) any sum paid from a regulated provident fund to an employee other than—
 - (a) such part of that sum as represents his contributions to that fund ; and
 - (b) such part of that sum as represents the contributions made by the employer to that fund prior to April 1, 1968, and the interest which accrued on such contributions, if tax at the rate of fifteen per centum has been paid by such employer in respect of such contributions and interest ;
- (iv) any sum received as compensation for loss of any office or employment ;
- (d) the rental value of any place of residence provided rent-free by the employer or where a place of residence is provided by an employer at a rent less than the rental value, the excess of the rental value over such rent.

For the purposes of this paragraph, the rental value of any place of residence shall be the net annual value as defined in section 5 with the addition of the rates paid by the owner and of thirty-three and one-third per centum of such net annual value on account of repairs and other expenses:

Provided that any excess of the rental value over fifteen per centum of the profits described in paragraphs (a) and (b) or fifteen thousand rupees, whichever is lower, shall be disregarded.

5. (1) The net annual value of land and improvements thereon or of any place of residence shall be determined on the basis of the rent which a tenant might reasonably be expected, taking one year with another, to pay for such land and improvements or for such place of residence (the tenant paying rates and the owner bearing the cost of repairs), subject to a deduction of twenty-five per centum on account of repairs and other expenses.

Net annual value of land and improvements thereon.

(2) Where the annual value of any land and improvements thereon or of any place of residence has been assessed for rating purposes by a local authority, such annual value, less a deduction of twenty-five per centum on account of repairs and other expenses, shall be the net annual value, unless in the opinion of the Commissioner-

General the assessment made by the local authority does not accurately represent the annual value of such land and improvements or place of residence in the year for which the net annual value is being determined.

Profits or income arising from rents of land and improvements thereon.

6. The profits or income arising from rents of land and improvements thereon shall be the gross rent which is receivable and can be recovered after deducting therefrom rates borne by the owner and, where the owner undertakes to bear the cost of repairs, twenty-five per centum of the balance but shall, where the rent recoverable in respect of such land and improvements is not restricted by any law for the time being in force, be not less than the net annual value after deducting therefrom any part thereof which is the income of the occupier within the meaning of paragraph (d) of section 3 due provision being made for any period in respect of which no rent is receivable or can be recovered.

Capital gains.

7. (1) "Capital gain" means the profits or income, not being profits or income within the meaning of paragraphs (a), (g) or (i) of section 3, arising from—

- (a) the change of ownership of any property occurring in any manner whatsoever;

- (d) the formation of a company, means, subject to the provisions of subsection (4), the value of the consideration received by him for any transaction in connection with the formation of such company;
- (e) the dissolution of a business or the liquidation of a company, means, subject to the provisions of subsection (4), the amount by which the value of all property received by him in consequence of such dissolution or liquidation exceeds the value of his share of the capital of such business or company at the time when such share was acquired by him;
- (f) the amalgamation or merger of two or more companies, means, where such person was a shareholder of any of those companies, any money received by such shareholder in consequence of such amalgamation or merger, and where such person was not a shareholder of any of those companies, the value of the consideration received by him for any transaction in connection with such amalgamation or merger; and
- (g) the promotion of a transaction to which such person was not a party, means the commission or reward received by him in connection with such promotion.

(3) "Value", with reference to any property or consideration in the context of the definition of "capital gain" and in relation to any person to whom the capital gain arises, shall be as follows:—

- (a) where the property was acquired before April 1, 1957, by the person to whom such gain arises then, subject to the provisions of paragraph (c), paragraph

- (d) where the person to whom the gain arises had come into possession of the property immediately after the cessation of a life interest of any other person in the property or after the cessation of the rights of a fiduciary in that property, the value of the property at the time when the first-mentioned person acquired such property shall—

- (i) if the date of the cessation of such life interest or such rights of a fiduciary is before April 1, 1957, be an amount equal to the market value of the property on April 1, 1957; and
- (ii) if the date of the cessation of such life interest or such rights of a fiduciary is on or after April 1, 1957, be an amount equal to the market value of the property on such date;
- (e) where the property is a bonus share issued on or after April 1, 1957, to the person to whom such gain arises, the value of the property at the time when it was acquired by such person shall be deemed to be nil;
- (f) where the property is a share issued on or after April 1, 1957, to the person to whom such gain arises at a price less than the market value of such share, the value of the property at the time when it was acquired by such person shall be an amount equal to the cost of acquisition of such property;
- (g) where the property consists of any shares received by the person to whom such gain arises in lieu of shares held by him in any of two or more companies which have amalgamated or merged on or after April 1, 1957, the value of the property at the time when it was so received shall—
 - (i) if the last-mentioned shares were acquired by him before April 1, 1957, be an amount equal to the market value of the last mentioned shares on April 1, 1957; or
 - (ii) if the last-mentioned shares were acquired by him on or after April 1, 1957, be an amount equal to the cost of purchase of such shares as were acquired by purchase and the market value on the date of acquisition of such shares as were acquired by him otherwise than by purchase;
- (h) where the property consists of shares in respect of which there has been a return or distribution of capital, the value of the property at the time when such shares were acquired shall—

- (i) if such shares were acquired by the person to whom such gain arises before April 1, 1957, be an amount equal to the market value of the shares on April 1, 1957, less the amount of the capital returned or distributed, on or after that date, if the amount of the capital returned or distributed is not a dividend within the meaning of this Act; and
- (ii) if such shares were acquired by the person to whom such gain arises on or after April 1, 1957, be an amount equal to the cost of purchase of such shares as were acquired by purchase and the market value on the date of acquisition of such shares as were acquired by him otherwise than by purchase, less the amount of the capital returned or distributed if the amount of the capital returned or distributed is not a dividend within the meaning of this Act;

other income of the partnership for that year of assessment, taking into account any salary and other remuneration of that partner and any interest on that partner's capital :

(5) The statutory income of any partner from a partnership shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of section 25 by treating his share of the divisible profit of the partnership as though it were the profits of a trade, business, profession or vocation carried on or exercised by him and his share of other income as though it accrued to him solely and the share of any partner of a divisible loss shall be treated as a loss incurred by him within the meaning of section 29 :

Provided that where no return has been made as required by subsection (3) or a return made under that subsection has not been accepted, the Assessor may estimate the statutory income of any partner from the partnership or the share of any partner of any divisible loss of the partnership to the best of his judgment :

Any person aggrieved by such assessment may appeal therefrom in the manner provided in Chapter XVIII. The Commissioner-General or the Board of Review, as the case may be, may upon such appeal determine the divisible profits and other income of the partnership and apportion the same among the partners and compute the statutory income of each of the partners from the partnership in accordance with subsection (5) of section 65 and the income tax payable in respect thereof. Such income tax may be recovered as tax on the assessment appealed against without any new assessment.

(2) Where after an assessment has been made in the name of a partnership under subsection (1), a change occurs in such partnership by reason of the retirement or death of, or the dissolution of the partnership in relation to, one or more of the partners, or the admission of a new partner, so however, that one or more of the persons who were joint owners of the assets of such partnership prior to such assessment continues or continued to be owner or joint owners of such assets, the person or partnership becoming owner of such assets, in consequence of such change shall be charged with the income tax or any part of it which remains unpaid on that assessment and the provisions of Chapter XXI shall apply to such persons or partnership accordingly.

(5) Notwithstanding anything in any other provision of this Act, the rate at which income tax is payable by a non-resident person in respect of any royalty received by him from a company with which an agreement has been entered into by the Greater Colombo Economic Commission under section 17 of the Greater Colombo Economic Commission Law, No. 4 of 1978, shall not exceed the rate, if any, specified in that agreement as the rate at which income tax is deductible from that royalty.

Provided that where such profits have been computed on a basis which differs materially from that specified in the preceding provisions of this Act, the ratio of profits shall be adjusted so as to correspond as nearly as may be to the ratio which would have been arrived at if the profits had been computed in accordance with such provisions.

(b) the ratio of the allowance for depreciation as computed by that authority to the total sums receivable in respect of the carriage of passengers, mails, livestock, and goods.

(4) Where at the time of assessment the provisions of subsection (2) cannot for any reason be satisfactorily applied, the profits arising in Sri Lanka may be computed on a fair percentage of the full sum receivable on account of the carriage of passengers, mails, livestock and goods loaded into an aircraft in Sri Lanka:

Provided that where any person has been assessed for any year of assessment by reference to such percentage, he shall be entitled to claim at any time within three years of the end of such year of assessment that his liability to income tax for that year be recomputed on the basis provided by subsection (2).

78. subsections, permit the profits of the company to be ascertained by reference to such proportion of the total profits and income of the company as is equal to the proportion which its premiums from insurance business in Sri Lanka bears to its total premiums, or on any other basis which appears to him to be equitable in all the circumstances of the case.
